WELCOME TO THE 3RD ANNUAL TORONTO REEL ASIAN INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL!

1999 has been a banner year for Reel Asian. We moved into our tiny new office at 80 Spadina Ave (where we are surrounded by beautiful art galleries we have no time to visit!), we began the laborious process of incorporating as a non-profit, and finally, we significantly expanded our programming with almost double the number of films and invited directors as last year.

Needless to say, we are tremendously excited by this year's events. The films are uniformly outstanding and represent a wide spectrum of Asian experiences and aesthetics. From the search for identity and meaning explored so poetically in the Asian Adoptee Programme, to the struggle for a really good way to ask a cute girl out explored in Freshmen, there's definitely something here for all tastes and preferences! A warm thank-you to Anita Lee and the motley crew of filmmakers, programmers and assorted film buffs who participated in the programming this year.

We are also thrilled to be bringing you these films in what has become a high-profile event that has grown from its humble roots in 1997 to the expanded, fun-filled four-day event before you this year. We are back at the Bloor Cinema, after a one-year hiatus, and for the first time ever, we will be presenting screenings opposite each other, to make room for all the fabulous films we'd like you to see. And, as in past years, we will be hosting workshops, panel discussions, receptions and, last but not least, terrific parties with groovy music, great food and, of course, lots of cool people with streaked hair and great accessories!

Our heartfelt thanks go out to all of the wonderful people who've donated their considerable energy and expertise to the festival. Special thank-yous to claman for his design work, Damian for our webpage, Tammy and Heejeh for their corporate development work, Derek Luis for organizing our workshop, our Boards of Directors and Advisors for their expertise, Ford of Canada and Korean Airlines for coming on board as new corporate sponsors, TD Bank Financial Group and Viacom for supporting our festival for a second year, our community sponsors for their generosity and goodwill, and our dedicated volunteers for their unflinching good humour. Kudos to you all!

Caroline Sin and Shelly Hong FESTIVAL DIRECTORS

Welcome to our 3rd and most ambitious year! Our programming has expanded significantly within four exciting days, with continued emphasis on Asian independent visions and emerging talent. Our programme this year presents six debut films, including our opening night film, Philip Gotanda's Life Tastes Good which premiered at Sundance, and 35 Toronto premieres, including fresh, challenging and memorable shorts by a broad range of artists. We are also thrilled to present Canadian premieres of returning directors, such as Fruit Chan, who premiered his internationally acclaimed feature film Made in Hong Kong with us last year and follows up this year with The Longest Summer. Our international spotlight this year is South Korea, and we are proud to co-present with Cinematheque and introduce to a Toronto audience four feature films by a new generation of exciting South Korean directors. Two programmes of South Korean short films, curated by Toronto filmmaker Helen Lee, completes the spotlight. The festival also introduces an Artist Spotlight this year, and Wayne Yung, a prolific, young Vancouver-based video artist is "spotlighted" in a programme curated by Toronto video artist and writer Richard Fung. A special Asian Adoptee Programme and Panel Discussion is curated by American guest curator Me-K Ahn. From features to shorts, from the formal to the entertaining, we hope there is something for everyone. Our goal is to present original, diverse and stimulating works that showcase the full spectrum of Asian independent filmmaking — with a focus on discovery. I'd like to mention all who contributed to programming this year: the board programming committee, guest curators, associate programmer Andrew Sun, and festival directors Caroline Sin and Shelly Hong. Please sit back and enjoy!

LIFE TASTES GOOD

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25 8PM @BLOOR CINEMA
OPENING NIGHT PRESENTATION
LIFE TASTES GOOD

Director: Philip Kan Gotanda. USA, 1999, 35 mm, colour, 90 min. CANADIAN PREMIERE!

Acclaimed American playwright Philip Kan Gotanda makes his feature debut with the visually stunning Life Tastes Good, a stylish and succulent feast for the eyes and the mind. Life Tastes Good follows Harry (Sab Shimono), a money-laundering accountant, who returns home to San Francisco to prepare himself a final and fatal meal of sautéed poisonous angel's nightcap mushroom. But first, he must reconcile with his needy and hilariously dysfunctional children (Tamlyn Tomita and Greg Watanabe) whom he abandoned years ago. Which will claim him first: the mushroom that also killed his wife, the mysterious beauty who plies him with California rolls, or the sinister Mr. Jones with his lethal finger and his lemons? An eclectic Californian fusion of Tarentino and Tampopo, Life Tastes Good is a powerful and often hilarious film about family, loyalty, death, and the power of food. DIRECTOR PRESENT.

PHILIP KAN GOTANDA is an acclaimed playwright whose two newest plays, Yohen (starring Danny Glover) and Sisters Matsumoto are currently playing in Los Angeles and Seattle. Life Tastes Good is his first feature film.

Preceded by THE OFFERING

YOUR KARAOKE BETTER THAN MY KARAOKE?
SHORTS PROGRAMME

This eclectic collection of imaginative shorts explores and challenges cultural stereotypes and prevailing myths about Asians in popular culture. Using diverse, hybrid approaches — animation, essay, documentary and mockumentary — these film and video artists draw on humour and irony to show the many sides of the issue of representation.

AMF'S TIRESIAS Director: Ann Marie Fleming. Canada, 1998, video, colour, 5 min. Episode Five of the continuing saga of Stickgirl has her reading between the lines of the ancient myth of Tiresias. Ann Marie Fleming is a writer, producer, director and editor. She has made more than 20 films which have been screened and awarded internationally.

EMPTY ORCHESTRA Director: Kira Wu. Canada, 1997, video, colour, 14 min. TORONTO PREMIERE!

Documentary or parody? Empty Orchestra takes a look at popular culture through the triple lens of tabloid TV, news reportage, and the personal narratives of karaoke singers. Kira Wu is currently pursuing an MFA at Simon Fraser University in the Interdisciplinary Arts Program.

NO MILK, BUT THERE'S ALWAYS COKE Director: Ernesto M. Foronda. USA, 1998, video, colour, 6 min. CANADIAN PREMIERE!

In this tongue-in-cheek short film, a young man scolds his mother for participating in a beauty pageant. A 60's Coca Cola industrial film shot in the Philippines plays in the background, providing its own ironic commentary. Ernesto M. Foronda was born in the Philippines. He is currently an MFA candidate in the Film Program at Columbia University.

RESCUE IN CHINATOWN Director: Keiichi Kondoh. USA, 1998, 16 mm, B&W, 5 min. CANADIAN PREMIERE!

An experimental chop-sockey, kung-fu flick that explores Asian stereotypes and cinematic notions of the "hero." Keiichi Kondoh is currently an MFA candidate in Film and Media Arts at Temple University. His Current projects include "a tourist" and "Reconstructing my Japan."

NO HOP SING, NO BRUCE LEE Director: Janice Tanaka. USA, 1998, video, colour, 32 min. TORONTO PREMIERE!

The single dimensional representation of Asian men as "silent, sex-less, obedient houseboys" or mystical "martial arts masters" is challenged and unravelled through the experiences and voices of Asian-American men. Janice Tanaka is a director, producer, and computer whiz. She is a pioneer in the use of processed images within experimental narrative form.

SEASON OF THE BOYS Director: Ho Tam. USA/Canada, 1998, video, colour, 4 min. Shot at the 1997 Chinatown Basketball Tournament in New York City, this impressionistic short film mixes the unlikely subjects of athletics, beauty and voyeuristic desire. Born in Hong Kong and educated in Toronto, Ho Tam works in a diverse mix of disciplines including painting, video, print and public art.

INTERNATIONAL SPOTLIGHT

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26 7PM @JOHN SPOTTON THEATRE
POSTCARDS FROM THE EDGE OF SEOUL:
KOREAN SHORTS PROGRAMME I

Curator: Helen Lee. ALL FILMS CANADIAN OR TORONTO PREMIERES!
Struggle and survival define recent Korean shorts, including works by Korea's pre-eminent experimental filmmaker, Kim Yun-tae, and a trio of dramas—by turns disaffected, charming and frightening—about the surreal realities of modern Korean life. • Helen Lee DIRECTOR KIM YUN-TAE PRESENT.

DOWSING Director: Kim Yun-tae. 1996, 16 mm, colour, 16 min.
Dowsing refers to a search for a vein of water in the earth with a divining rod. Sketches from a day in the life of an unusual girl, a day when all her daily routines seem condensed into one solitary dream. Stark, enigmatic and fantastic. Kim Yun-tae is a graduate of the Seoul Institute of Arts and the Goethe Institute. He has credits in performance art, video installation and film. He is currently preparing his first feature.

SIMULTANEITY Director: Kim Seong-sook. 1998, 35 mm, colour, 16 min.
An injured ex-factory worker hides in a tiny booth selling lottery tickets and befriends a customer who sells porn videos on the street. While exploiting the plain desires of strangers, the pair's unusual symbiosis comes to an end when they must confront their own. Kim Seong-sook is a graduate of Yonsei University and a member of the arts collective, The Youth. "Simultaneity" is her second short film.

LINK Director: Kang Man-jin. 1999, 16 mm, colour, 11 min.
A drunken salaryman descends into a seemingly deserted underpass — literally the bowels of Seoul night life — losing more than his shirt in a remarkable encounter with a naked stranger. Who is the victim and who is the aggressor? Directed in one single continuous take. Kang Man-jin is the recipient of the 1995 Chosun Ilbo Literary Prize and is currently completing an MA in creative writing at Joong-ang University. "Link" is his first film.

GIRLS' NIGHT OUT Director: Jung Jae-eun. 1999, video, colour, 24 min.
The twisted vagaries of teenhood unfold in this slice-of-life drama about a young woman yearning to be a photographer and her girlfriend who is having an affair with her cousin. A Rohmeresque tale that ends up, like so many Eric Rohmer films, at a beachside resort with unsorted wishes and tentative resolutions. Jung Jae-eun is a graduate of the Korean National University of Arts, School of Film and Multimedia. "Girls Night Out" is her thesis film.

VIDEO RITUAL Director: Kim Yun-tae. 1997, video, colour, 12min.
Who can foresee the moment of death? Breaking the "skin" of everyday reality, what is left for the living is the process of giving social meaning to the sudden end of life. Kim's video is a kind of memorial for this grieving.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 26 9:30PM @BLOOR CINEMA
MADE IN KOREA: KOREAN SHORTS PROGRAM II
Curator: Helen Lee. ALL FILMS CANADIAN OR TORONTO PREMIERES!
Contemporary Korea through the eyes of emerging directors, all age 30 or under. Four brand-new dramas encompassing the dream lives of urban Seoulites. DIRECTOR SONG IL-GON PRESENT.

THE PICNIC Director: Song Il-gon. 1999, 35 mm, colour, 14 min.
A picnic on a serene winter afternoon takes an unexpected turn in this stunning evocation of one family's loss. Inspired by bloodless newspaper reports about suicides in the wake of Korea's economic crisis. Song Il-gon studied filmmaking at the Seoul Institute of Arts and the National Film School in Lodz, Poland. He is currently working on his first feature.

REFRIGERATOR Director: Ahn Young-seok. 1999, 16 mm, colour, 29 min.
Strife and simple pleasures abound when a working-class family inherits an unwanted refrigerator. Set in the 1970s when electrical appliances were considered a "luxury," the film's neo-realist portrayal is at once nostalgic and life-affirming. Ahn Young-seok has degrees from Hankuk University of Foreign Studies and the Korean Academy of Film Arts. Refrigerator is his thesis film.

SUICIDE NOTE Director: Lee Hyung-gon. 1999, 16mm, colour, 15 min.
When boy meets girl, she tells him, "The camera is my suicide note." An elegiac, essayistic film that takes the form of a video diary to document traumas both physical and psychic. Lee Hyung-gon is currently a student at the Korea National University of Arts, School of Film and Multimedia. "Suicide Note" is his second film.

BABY Director: Yim Phil-sung. 1999, 35 mm, colour, 34 min.
A high school student discovers more than sex during an affair with his college-age tutor in this beautifully rendered fable about the inevitability of lost innocence. Directed with gorgeous restraint and an unforgettable fantasy sequence (the cloudy liquid is also a crude Korean rice wine) that epitomizes the absurdity of adolescent ache. Yim Phil-sung graduated from Dankook University as an English major and was a member of the independent film group, Chang-nyun. "Baby" is his third short.

*THE KOREAN SHORT FILMS WILL BE FOLLOWED BY A CATERED RECEPTION

Shot in ominous black and white to reflect the dark and gritty nature of the story, Standard Deviation follows a maze of twists and turns created by five shady characters, all trying to outwit one another to gain the winning numbers for the next bit city lottery draw. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27 4:30PM @JOHN SPOTTON THEATRE

LOVE & OTHER PAINS: SHORTS PROGRAMME

First lovers, past lovers, wronged lovers, May-September lovers and superhero lovers. Girl-girl, girl-boy, or boy-boy, in the end, it's all about love. Choosing divergent approaches, experimental film techniques, verité video or traditional drama, the filmmakers in this programme muse on the nature of love and the politics of desire. DIRECTORS PRESENT.

SWELL Director: Carolynne Hew. Canada, 1998, video, colour/B&W, 5 min.

Desire disorients ... and bodily swellings result. "A lovely concoction of hand-tinted and scratched film evoking a woman's flight from concrete to nature — spurred on by a kiss" (Gordon Bowness, XTRA!). Carolynne Hew is a Toronto-based filmmaker. Both Swell and her first film, Bangs, have been screened internationally.

TELEFUNK8 Director: Nicole Chung. Canada, 1998, video, B&W, 12 min.

A modern-day love story of lesbian slackers and superhero lovers. Shot in grainy black and white, the film struggles with the questions of desire, sexual identity, and, you know, whatever. Nicole Chung grew up in Scarborough and spent her early twenties studying film and contemporary art after an aborted attempt at calculus and physics.

LIFESIZE Director: Lynne Chan. USA, 1998, video, colour, 10 min. TORONTO PREMIERE!

Part video love letter, part obsessional fantasy about a gum-smacking Jersey girl, Lifesize plays with the concept of "hyper-autobiography" and explores themes of performance, memory, desire, and cynicism. Lynne Chan is a visual artist living and working in Los Angeles. Her video, "Untitled (my mama)" received the Best Short Video award at the New York Festival in 1998.

BOULEVARD OF BROKEN SYNC Director: Winston Xin. Canada, 1995, video, colour, 3 min.

A techno-poem that mixes fifties porn, lounge music, deadpan wit, and a lover's sweet revenge. An emotional breakdown takes form as broken video sync. Winston Xin is a Malaysian-born, Vancouver-based media artist, curator and writer. He is one of the founders of Asian Heritage Month.

FIRST LOVE & OTHER PAINS Director: Simon Chung.

Canada/Hong Kong, 1999, 35 mm, colour, 50 min.

A post-colonial love story between a professor who feels trapped in a cultural backwater and the much younger Mark, an adoring student who pursues him with single-minded determination. Simon Chung is a graduate of the Film Program at York University. Since his return to Hong Kong, he has been working in the local film and television industries.

THE LONGEST SUMMER

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27 7PM @JOHN SPOTTON THEATRE ARTIST SPOTLIGHT
THIS QUEEN'S CANTONESE:
SPOTLIGHT ON THE VIDEO ART OF WAYNE YUNG

Curator: Richard Fung.

Smart, sexy and visually stunning. These are three elements that put the videotapes of Edmonton-born, Vancouver-based Wayne Yung at the forefront of contemporary media art on the politics of race and sexuality. With credentials in fiction, fashion and performance, Yung works a critical mind and an unflinching sense of aesthetic precision to compose tapes that are as layered in meaning as they are in sound and image. Inspiration comes from the joys, insecurities and the style turns of queer Asian boydom—from body image to bonding, from Canto-pop to pornography. Whether pushing the boundaries of confessional autobiography or adding a new twist to dance video conventions, Yung's insights and investigations will stir the mind—and perhaps the libido—of anyone with an interest in postmodern realities. In addition to the listed work, this program will feature the WORLD PREMIERES of two short videotapes tentatively entitled 1,000 Cumshots and Love Letter. • Richard Fung. DIRECTOR PRESENT.

THE QUEEN'S CANTONESE CONVERSATIONAL COURSE, LESSON 1

1998, video, colour, 33 min, in 3 parts. TORONTO PREMIERE!

Suffice it to say, the queen in question is not the matriarch of the Windsor clan. Here, finally, is a language instruction class that truly teaches you where to place your tongue.

LOTUS SISTERS 1996, video, colour, 5 min.

A day-in-the-life of Yung's gay male "Lotus Sisters." From the noodle house to Stanley Park, this video captures a specifically West Coast Asian queer sensibility.

SEARCH ENGINE 1999, video, colour, 4 min. TORONTO PREMIERE!

Memories linger and possibilities open with the digitization of desire.

ANGEL 1998, video, colour, 5 min.

Disillusioned with dominant gay style, one man falls from grace.

THE QUEEN'S CANTONESE CONVERSATIONAL COURSE, LESSON 2

This class offers phrases for cruising in the park. Berlitz was never this useful.

ONE NIGHT IN HEAVEN (EAST END REMIX) 1995, video, colour, 6 min.

This ingenious riff on the complexities of power and sexual image-making should be mandatory viewing for anyone inclined to justify censorship on the grounds of objectification.

PETER FUCKING WAYNE FUCKING PETER 1994, video, colour, 5 min.

Could getting fucked by a white man be the ultimate transgressive act for the political Asian fag? Decide for yourself in this fearless exploration.

The teacher gets really involved with her students in this final episode.

SURFER DICK 1997, video, colour, 3 min.

Pool halls, poofters and posers make for a wonky and wonderful dance video on the rituals of courtship.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27 8:45 PM @JACKMAN HALL

THE POWER OF KANGWON PROVINCE

Director: Hong Sang-soo. South Korea. TORONTO PREMIERE!

Co-presented by Cinematheque Ontario. Please refer to the Cinematheque Guide for details.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27 9:20 PM @BLOOR CINEMA

Director: Fruit Chan. Hong Kong, 1998, 35 mm, colour, 128 mins. CANADIAN PREMIERE!

The Longest Summer is the second installment of Fruit Chan's planned HK trilogy, and it's the most ambitious film to come out of the territory in years. After bursting on the scene with 1997's blunt statement on youth in Made In Hong Kong, Chan returns with a film that follows a garrison of career Chinese soldiers of the British Army dismissed at the Handover. Themes of abandonment and lost identity run through this ambitious film full of colloquial vignettes (worried about disturbances during the Handover, the police put Triads under house arrest in 5-star hotels with harbour views). Shot at the time of the Handover, Chan actually captured scenes of the PLA entering Hong Kong and the opening of the Tsing Ma bridge. The Longest Summer is a complex film, admittedly full of symbolism. This is a monumental tale of phallic frustration — trained soldiers who never get to use their guns, never get to fight, never get to ejaculate, emasculated by history and economics. The Chinese title is The Summer Of Too Much Fireworks and, appropriately, it is explosive, dazzling and an awesome grand spectacle. • Andrew Sun

Fruit Chan's Made in Hong Kong beat out Wong Kar-Wai's Happy Together to win Best Film at the Hong Kong International Film Festival.

MY OWN PRIVATE ASIA

Asia is the answer. Zen gives meaning to the suburbs, love is found through a forsenic fortune cookie, and sushi is the McMillennium meal. But what happens when you're Asian, and your white boyfriend is more Zen than you are? If you're almost but not quite John Lone, or your sushi isn't being taken seriously? Is communication truly impossible? From Zen masters to rice queens, fortune cookie-aholics to sushi yakuzas, this humorous and irreverent programme of dramatic shorts puts the spin on being Asian in North America at the end of the century.

Director: Tom Huang. USA, 1998, 16 mm, colour, 130 min. CANADIAN PREMIERE!

Billy Joel-obsessed San Ling wonders why he's dating the cute white girl. Neurotic, sheltered Rick Kennedy can't wrap his mind around lesbians who are also good-looking and wonders why he can't be an English major. Perky, free-flying Judy Oz just wonders where the next party is, while the driven assistant-manager-to-be Tonisha Watkins wonders why she's fighting so hard to stay in school in the first place. Welcome to first year at L.A.U! Seinfeld meets DeGrassi in this offbeat collegiate adventure—by turns hilarious, melodramatic and touching—which will charm audiences with its honest portrayals and its acerbic humour. Winner of the Audience Award at the Los Angeles Asian Pacific Film Festival. DIRECTOR PRESENT.

Tom Huang figures he'll always be doing independent film, being that he could never see a studio film that had Asian male characters that weren't Ninjas or Chinese food delivery men. Freshmen is his thesis film and was supposed to have been 50 minutes long.

FOLLOWED BY THE CLOSING NIGHT PARTY AT 23/100 (100 NIAGARA AT TECHUMSEH).
